

DE649349A- Claims

Patent claims: 1) An arrangement for demolishing of road vehicle, in particular combat vehicle, wheel tires, thereby characterized that it is composed of hindrance plates made of an easily destroyable building material, which has, on the one side, claws holding the plates firmly attached to the roadbed and, on the other side, strong and undestroyable, preferably sharp edged tearing and cutting prongs protruding from it, which penetrate into the tire covering under the pressure of the same and subsequently destroy it.